

IMPACT STUDY FAQ'S

How do I get enrolled in the Impact Registry Study?

First you will sign the Registry study consent form. Then you must register for the study.

Registration requires that you:

- Answer the required registration questions
- Agree to the Strainprint licensing terms

Who is Strainprint and how are they involved in the Impact Registry?

The Impact Registry data is hosted and managed by Strainprint, the most robust cannabis journaling app in the world.

Be assured that your personal information is secured and protected under HIPAA (Health Insurance, Portability and Accounting Act) and GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation—the strongest security law in the world), among others.

What happens once I am registered for the Impact Study?

Once you register, you will receive an invitation via email from Strainprint to download their journaling app. You can download it from either Google Play or the Apple app store. You will be provided a code that is specific to the IMPACT Registry.

You will also receive a baseline (first) survey to complete. Complete the survey once you have your selected product in hand.

Please mark Strainprint as one of your safe senders since they will be sending all study surveys via email over the 3 month duration of the study.

We encourage you to use the Strainprint journaling app to record your daily use of and experiences with the cannabis product you have selected. You will also record any changes in products used via the app. This will help researchers understand day to day use of your selected product/s and how they are working to manage your symptom.

You will receive reward points every time you record a session in the Strainprint app.

How often will I have to complete study surveys?

All study specific surveys will be sent to you via email on the following schedule:

- Baseline (first survey) once you are registered.
  - It is critical that you do not take the survey until you have your product in hand and you are ready to take it.
- Follow ups at 1,2,3,4 weeks, 2 months, 3 months after you start your medication and from the time you submit your first survey.

How will I be compensated for the time it takes me to complete study surveys?

You will receive compensation for completing the study surveys in the form of gift cards.

You will receive compensation for completing the study surveys at the end of Month One, Month Two and Month Three.

The compensation is $25 for the baseline survey and $15 for each of the follow up surveys.

What is the purpose of the questions I am being asked during registration?

The questions you are answering help study personnel to communicate with you, make sure that you have exclusive access to your account and that only approved data for research is shared with the researchers. In addition, some of the questions will help researchers understand the results of your experience using cannabis to manage your selected symptom. Your name is NOT included as part of the study data; it is just used to ensure that the database host (Strainprint) has confirmed they are registering you securely.

How do I get the products I will use while participating in this study?

Please review the list of products you may use as part of this study. Depending on the product you select and where you live, your products will either be delivered to you by a Juva delivery driver or they will be mailed to you directly as permitted by local and state law.

Please note that for some parts of the state of California and the rest of the country, your choice will be limited to CBD-only based products.

Select the delivery method of choice and start with the lowest dose AFTER you complete your baseline survey.

You can find a list of products and suggested dosages here:
